

Award Winning Artist Toby Walker has appeared in the New York Times, The London Sunday Times and a variety of music publications in addition to appearing on several national radio and television broadcasts.

Known as a musician's musician, Toby Walker is now endorsed by National Guitars and is currently a guitar instructor with Hot Tuna guitarist Jorma Kaukonen's Fur Peace Ranch. Toby is the New York recipient of the International Blues Challenge Award, held annually in Memphis TN. A student of the blues for over 30 years, he has made numerous field trips to the Mississippi, the Carolinas and Virginia where he studied the finer points of blues guitar from seasoned old time musicians.

In 2005 Carnegie Hall contracted Toby Walker to present a special series of American Roots Music programs in the NYC schools which was the feature story in a Sunday NY Times publication.

Toby has toured Europe and the U.K, and in September he will be returning to England for his 8th tour of the country.

I would like to introduce, Band In The Hand Recording Artist
Toby Walker